

Andrew Ross Brief bio

Professor, Dalhousie University, Halifax, Nova Scotia

Division Head, Nuclear Medicine, QE2 Health Sciences Ctr., Halifax

Medical Director, Molecular Imaging and Research Ctr., Nova Scotia

President, Canadian Association of Nuclear Medicine

Over 20 years of clinical experience in Nuclear Medicine. Involved nationally in multiple capacities including current role as President of the CANM as well for a decade on the Royal College Nuclear Medicine Examination Committee including five years as Chair. As well, significant involvement in resident teaching and nuclear medicine research. Many lectures nationally and internationally.